

Anti-Social Behaviour Policy

Including Hate Behaviour and Domestic Abuse

Policy reference number: ASB1-POL-FH

Version number: 3

Date applies from: 1.5.22

UNCONTROLLED IF PRINTED

Aim of policy

ForHousing owns properties which are spread over a large geographical area and therefore there will be reference in part of this policy to specific areas and the policy will otherwise be common between the areas.

Strategic Statement

ForHousing recognises the impact that Anti-Social Behaviour (ASB) can have on the lives of customers and aims to enable a living and working environment that is free from any form of intimidation, harassment, discrimination or victimisation because of a person's age, gender, sexual orientation, disability, race, nationality, ethnic origin or religion.

ForHousing is committed to delivering services through a non-judgemental, balanced approach. All cases of ASB will be treated fairly, taking into account the needs of all individuals involved, including the complainants, witnesses and alleged perpetrators.

ForHousing believes that all tenants should be able to live without fear of abuse from a spouse or partner, former spouse or partner or other member of their household and understands that any person can experience domestic abuse. ForHousing provides victim-centred, accessible and flexible assistance to customers who are suffering domestic abuse and hate behaviour, as well as offering advice and support to perpetrators.

Policy

This Policy sets out how ForHousing will endeavour to prevent and tackle ASB and applies where the alleged perpetrator and/or the complainant lives in, or is visiting, a property managed by ForHousing or is within a neighbourhood where ForHousing has homes. This could also apply if an incident takes place elsewhere, for example at one of the housing offices or is posted on a social media platform such as Facebook

ForHousing will take action for ASB against perpetrators or on behalf of victims who live in housing not managed by ForHousing such as Leaseholders, shop owners and owner occupiers.

This Policy also applies where staff, customer representatives, contractors, partners or agents are subjected to abusive, threatening or intimidating behaviour (including hate behaviour) whilst working or acting on behalf of ForHousing.

Definition of Anti Social Behaviour

Anti- Social Behaviour is defined in the Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 as conduct that:

- Has caused, or is likely to cause, harassment, alarm or distress to any person
- Is capable of causing nuisance or annoyance to a person in relation to that person's occupation of residential premises, or
- Is capable of causing housing-related nuisance or annoyance to any person

The following is not an exhaustive list, but examples of ASB can include:

- Behaviour which is aggressive, threatening or causes intimidation or harassment;
- Acts or threats of violence
- Hate behaviour (including harassment)
- Domestic abuse
- Using social media platforms such as Facebook to perpetrate any of the above
- Noise nuisance including loud music, shouting, slamming doors
- Criminal activity which affects the community
- Problems caused by animals (uncontrolled behaviour, or persistent barking)
- Graffiti
- Abandoned cars and other vehicle nuisance including motorbikes/mopeds
- ASB as a result of misuse of drugs or alcohol

There are some types of behaviour that may not be considered as ASB, such a baby crying, people completing DIY at a reasonable time of the day or dogs barking intermittently.

ForHousing will assess each report individually when deciding whether it is ASB, considering factors such as frequency and circumstances.

Definition of Hate Incidents/Hate Crime

A Hate Incident is: Any non-crime incident which is perceived by the victim or any other person to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a personal characteristic.

A Hate Crime is: Any criminal offence which is perceived by the victim or any other person to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a personal characteristic.

There are five centrally monitored strands of hate crime:

- Race or ethnicity
- Religion or belief
- Sexual orientation
- Disability
- Transgender identity

However, other protective characteristics include :

Age
Gender reassignment
Marriage and Civil partnership
Pregnancy and maternity
Sex

ForHousing adopts a zero-tolerance approach to all hate crime and hate related incidents. This is set out within this Policy.

Definition of Domestic Abuse

Domestic abuse is any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. The abuse can encompass, but is not limited to:

- psychological
- physical
- sexual
- financial
- emotional

This policy sets out how ForHousing deals with incidents of domestic abuse.

Categories of Behaviour

ForHousing categorises and prioritises types of ASB as follows:

- ForHousing will acknowledge and triage a report within two working days and arrange to discuss the problem with the Complainant;
- If the problem does not include violence or harassment, ForHousing will speak to the Complainant within five working days of triaging the report and interview the alleged perpetrator within five working days of them being identified;
- If the problem involves harassment (including hate behaviour or domestic abuse) ForHousing will meet with the Complainant within one working day and interview the alleged perpetrator (where appropriate) within two working days of them being identified;
- If the Complainant is suffering violence (or the threat of it) ForHousing will meet with them within one working day and (where appropriate) take action against the perpetrator on the same day.

Obligation of Tenants

ForHousing's tenancy agreements set out the tenant's responsibilities to behave in a reasonable manner and to ensure that their family and any visitors do so as well. They include specific clauses regarding ASB which includes Hate Behaviour and Domestic Abuse. ForHousing will take appropriate action against tenants, members of their household or their visitors if they do not comply with the conditions of the tenancy agreement.

Where it is reasonable and safe to do so, ForHousing will encourage and support complainants to try to resolve issues themselves by speaking directly to the other party or by attending a joint meeting facilitated by ForHousing.

Multi-agency working

Many of ForHousing's ASB cases will require the involvement of other agencies and services to be able to resolve them. ForHousing will work with partner agencies such as the Police, Council and other providers as well as support services, for example Social Services, Education, Health, Youth and Fire Services. The latter can include carrying out joint interviews or home visits to Complainants or Perpetrators to assess support needs or issue warnings.

Across ForHousing, our involvement with partners varies, dependent on stock numbers and profile within each area. Due to small numbers of properties within Oldham and Fylde for example, involvement is less formal and more on an operational level than in Salford where we are a key housing provider. The partners with which we work in the different areas are shown below:

Oldham

- Oldham Metropolitan Borough Council (OMBC). We are members of Oldham's Strategic Housing Partnership and contribute to decisions relating to housing, including community safety issues.
- OMBC. In relation to a Common Allocations Framework and sharing information to help protect communities.
- We feed into OMBC's weekly Community Tensions Report which is a method of sharing information across key agencies who have a duty in terms of community safety. Flash points are reported such as upcoming football matters or protests.
- ForHousing are also represented on OMBC's Hate Crime Working Group
- Greater Manchester Police Oldham Division. We meet on a local level with police, sharing information, reviewing cases and identifying hot spot areas.
- We attend Domestic Abuse MARAC (Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference) meetings as required.

Fylde

- Fylde Borough Council. We work with the Council in terms of allocations and safeguarding issues such as making referrals if necessary.
- Lancashire Police Fylde Division. We work with the police to share information to assist in the protection of the community.

Knowsley

- Merseyside Police. We attend high level meetings, led by the police, relating to serious crimes including gun crime in the Knowsley area. We meet on a local level with police, sharing information, reviewing cases and identifying hot spot areas.
- We are members of a number of groups at both strategic and operational level. These include: the Community Safety Partnership, Domestic Abuse MARAC (Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference), MATAC (Multi-Agency Task and Co-ordination) addressing high risk perpetrators of Domestic Abuse, Local Problem-Solving Group and MARTHR (Multi Agency Threat, Harm & Risk)

Salford

- Salford City Council. We are members of a number of groups at both strategic and operational level. These include the Community Safety Partnership, Partnership Delivery Group, Tackling Domestic Abuse Board, MARAC (multi-agency risk assessment conference).
- Other key Housing Providers, Salix Homes and Pendleton Together. We work together to provide joint information to the strategic boards operating in Salford. We also share information about individuals to help protect our communities.

- Greater Manchester Police. We attend a range of meetings that are led by the police including Gold, Silver and Bronze meetings where different levels of community safety related crimes are monitored and managed.

ForHousing is involved in multi-agency meetings such as action planning meetings to discuss victims and/or perpetrators, Community Safety Partnership meetings, MARAC (high risk domestic abuse) and Child Protection Professionals meetings.

ForHousing supports the Community Safety Partnership's 'Community Trigger case review process'. This gives victims of persistent anti-social behaviour cases the right to request a review of their case and bring agencies together to find a solution, if issues haven't been addressed. This process is coordinated by the relevant Council and does not replace ForHousing's own complaints procedures.

Support for Victims and Witnesses

ForHousing will ensure that appropriate support is provided on a case-by-case basis. This will include carrying out a comprehensive Victim Risk Assessment; ensuring that the complainant's support needs are met throughout the duration of the case.

This can include:

- support for victims and witnesses of ASB (and their families, where required) tailored to their individual needs, including out of hours support and pre and post court support
- referrals to other agencies such as drug and alcohol services, mental health, social services and language translation services

There may be limitations to what ForHousing can do to help if the Complainant wishes to remain anonymous or does not want to accept support.

Support for Vulnerable Perpetrators

Support will be offered and provided to Perpetrators who exhibit vulnerabilities or support needs. This will be reviewed by ForHousing on a case-by-case basis.

ForHousing will assess the needs of a perpetrator during the initial interview and throughout the duration of the case. Where appropriate, ForHousing will work with specialist services, such as drug and alcohol, mental health and Council services, to ensure appropriate support and advice is provided.

However, it may not always be possible to offer support before action is taken, for example in circumstances where ForHousing apply for a 'without notice' injunction.

Prevention

ForHousing is committed to preventing ASB happening in the first place by:

- working with partner agencies such as the Police, Local Council and other agencies to maintain joint working arrangements; this includes attending strategic and operational meetings to manage demand, threat, risk and harm in community safety across our areas of operation. Through multi agency operational case management meetings, individuals and families involved in ASB are discussed and action plans agreed.

- working with statutory and voluntary organisations, Residents groups and other organisations to assist in the provision and delivery of diversionary activities; for example, if we need to, we may bring in other agencies such as social services. This might be to help deal with the root cause of a problem, for example, mental health difficulties or drug and alcohol abuse. Likewise, we may involve sport and youth projects to provide diversion and other activities to help deal with problems caused by children or young people.
- carrying out effective pre-tenancy checks - prior to new sign-ups, we carry out a pre-tenancy interview which includes a Vulnerability Matrix to identify potential support needs so that measures can be put in place to reduce the risk of a failed tenancy.
- applying a robust tenancy sign up process – there is a section in our tenancy agreement dedicated to ASB, this clearly states what is expected of tenants and the legal remedies available to us if the tenancy agreement is breached. Neighbourhood Officers draw specific attention to this section of the tenancy agreement at sign up and the new tenant is provided with a copy of our ASB Handbook or directed to the electronic version available on our tenant website. The Handbook contains more detailed information about what constitutes anti-social behaviour and “Your obligation” as a tenant.
- using starter tenancies - all new tenancies are ‘Starter tenancies’. We conduct regular reviews during the initial 12-month period of a starter tenancy to ensure that any support needs are identified and met, and any problems around the conduct of the tenancy (e.g. rent arrears and/or anti-social behaviour) are discussed with the tenant. We instigate a ‘current tenant visit’ where any concerns are raised regarding the property or occupants of an ongoing tenancy. We make use of Starter tenancies and will instigate the extension process, where appropriate, to monitor tenancies which may be at risk and allow the opportunity for issues to be addressed with a view to the tenancy being successfully sustained in the long term.

Resolving an ASB Case

ForHousing will explore all avenues available and always try to resolve ASB cases through informal action. This includes, but is not exhaustive to:

- where additional needs have been identified such as mental health difficulties (inclusive of dementia) ForHousing will work to resolve ASB cases seeking additional support as required;
- where appropriate, make use of Warning Interviews, Restorative Justice, Good Neighbour Agreements and Mediation methods;
- when necessary, install noise monitoring or surveillance equipment or make use of professional witnesses;
- upon resolution of a case, when appropriate, publicising successful outcomes through various media to demonstrate ForHousing’s commitment to tackling ASB, to inform staff and the wider community and to deter potential perpetrators;

- if a customer feels that their ASB case has been incorrectly closed, they have the option to appeal the decision made to close their case, with the appeal being fully investigated by a Manager who has had no involvement with the case ; and
- where customers express dissatisfaction with the way that ongoing live cases are handled or complain that they do not feel the process is being followed, they can also have their case reviewed through the appeal process, as above.

Legal Action and Enforcement

When all options to resolve a case have been exhausted, where appropriate, reasonable and proportionate legal action will be sought. There will also be occasions where immediate legal action is required such as where serious threats have been made or violence has occurred.

ForHousing aims to do this whilst keeping the need for evictions to a minimum.

ForHousing will take necessary action against tenants, members of their household or their visitors if they do not comply with the conditions of the tenancy agreement (or any lease or transfer deed for owner occupiers who have exercised their right to buy/acquire).

ForHousing may also take action against people who cause ASB in neighbourhoods where ForHousing has homes even if the perpetrators are not tenants of ForHousing.

Possession of a ForHousing property may also be sought where ASB and/or criminality has already been proven by another court (e.g. Magistrates Court). This can apply when the perpetrator is the tenant, a member of the tenant's household or a person visiting the property.

ForHousing will also use available powers to protect non-ForHousing customers from unacceptable behaviour that may occur in neighbourhoods where ForHousing has homes. In some cases, it may be more appropriate for ForHousing to support other agencies in taking legal action.

If ForHousing serve a Notice of intent to seek possession or apply to court for a warrant, the community safety team will make a referral for the tenant to the relevant Local Authority homelessness team.

Data Protection, Confidentiality and Information Exchange

ForHousing will not disclose any information about, or provided by, a Complainant without their consent unless there are safeguarding issues that could impact on the safety of children or vulnerable adults or where there may have been a crime committed.

All information shared in respect of Perpetrators will adhere to the principles of data protection and in accordance with legislation as it relates to information sharing between agencies for the purposes of the reduction of crime and disorder.

How the policy will be delivered

Our Neighbourhood Services Teams situated in our relevant subsidiaries will have day to day responsibility for delivering this Policy.

If employees become aware that there are problems with effective operation of this Policy or the associated procedures, they should report this to the Policy Owner. This feedback will be incorporated into the policy and procedural review process.
